George M. Cohan Says of "The Miracle Man"

January 3, 1914.

Dear Mr. Munsey:-

I read, at one sitting, "The Miracle Man," by Frank L. Packard, the complete novel in the February Munsey, and I want to say to you that it is the biggest story of the kind I have ever read.

I have secured from Mr. Packard, the author, the dramatic rights and will begin work on the play at once. My only hope is that I shall come as near to writing a big play as Mr. Packard has to writing a really very big novel. I shall call the play "The Miracle Man," the same as the title of the book. Yours very truly,
